B. SHORT DESCRIPTION
Objectives (identify the main goals of the project and target groups addressed)	The Homeless Shelter ¹ is a resource that helps to transform the circumstances of the residents in the Asturias Region who have faced barriers in their lives. These installations are owned by the Avilés Municipality and operated and managed by Grupo 5 and works directly with the residents of the region to create new approaches in addressing the most fundamental needs of the homeless population. Among other activities and resources, they try to provide shelter to as many individuals as possible.
Methodology (identify the methodological principles, mode of operation and level of intervention)	The Homeless Shelter aims to help all the population that needs support to "quiet the streets" to start a new and inclusive social life among the rest of society. In other words, the shelter works directly with people that are already suffering from social exclusion. Their methodology of action is based on the direct action and support for people at risk (homeless people), providing housing, training and helping them to find jobs and personal and professional stability so that they can later "abandon" the shelter "for good" and live on their own.
	The homeless care centre of the Avilés City Council, managed by Group 5, develops a combined program of activities, which includes a comprehensive intervention model, which give a comprehensive response to the needs of accommodation, maintenance, information and guidance, as well as to development of social skills and support for the personal restructuring of the homeless. In short, in addition to the Shelter's provision of services and facilities, there is also a methodology for the active participation of homeless individuals in the centre's daily activities. There is a concern on the part of the centre staff that its users have a notion of responsibility towards the space that they use, so users actively participate in the maintenance and cleaning activities of the centre.
	The goal is to instil in the homeless people notions of belonging and responsibility that had disappeared throughout their lives as homeless, in that way, they will be able to regain soft skills important for their future. In the methodology of action of the Shelter, it should also be noted that the Shelter first gives shelter and provides the facilities to its users and only later make a psycho-social intervention to the individual in order to help them with their problems and the reasons that made them "homeless".

C. MAIN FINDINGS

Social Needs

(identify the social needs the organisation intends to fill) In terms of the objectives and mission that guide the Shelter², this non-for-profit organisation intends to meet and fulfil the following social needs:

- Need to provide a right and just support to homeless individuals;
- Need to give shelter and decent living conditions to homeless people;
- Need to value homeless people in society;
- Need to reintegrate homeless individuals into society;
- Need to create a sense of belonging to the homeless people towards the city and its inhabitants;

Based on a methodology of proximity and direct support to the homeless people of the Asturias Region, the Shelter aims to promote a society with fewer homeless people. In addition to this goal and more general need, the Shelter wants to achieve the inclusion, socialization and integration of the individuals at risk in society, the ultimate objective being to help them to find personal and professional stability so that they can later "abandon" the Shelter and live on their own.

Social Innovative Practices (identify the main social innovative practices developed and the extent to which the work developed responds to those needs)

The Shelter's social innovation practices have to be seen as a whole, so you will need to understand how this organization works. Thus, the integral management of the homeless care centre includes the following services:

- Information, advice, assessment and guidance to homeless people, as well as the realization of psychological and social procedures necessary for the user in order to support personal and social structuring;
- Assessment and diagnostic service. All the benefits of the centre are based on individualized care plans which are initiated through integral and integrative processes that facilitate and help with social incorporation;
- Daily and wellness services, such as, accommodation; maintenance; day centre; personal grooming; and closet and storage.

In this project that aims to solve this emergent social problem, there is a deep integration and socialization that goes beyond the simple "accommodation" of homeless people. When a homeless person is referred to the Shelter services it is about much more than merely providing accommodation. It is about restoring a homeless person's self-belief, encouraging potential, rebuilding old skills³, developing new ones and repairing torn relationships. Briefly, the whole Shelter initiative is embedded and rooted in a web of socialisation, inclusion, integration,

D. MAIN CONSTRAINTS TO SUCCESS
Challenges and Barriers (identify the main problems that the organisation faces: financial resources, human resources, networks,	There are three barriers and difficulties ⁴ pointed out that limit the functioning and response given to homeless people in need: • There is a high dependence on national and regional funds. • Homeless people who need to sleep can only stay a maximum of three days in a row; • There is a lot of demand for help, and the Shelter resources and facilities are unable to meet the demand level; • There is no Health Care Support service at the Centre.
innovative environment)

Key Concluding Lines In conclusion, there is an active concern of the Avilés Shelter in work with homelessness in the region, more specifically the homeless people who have problems of integration and socialization in society and communities around them. They provide a "roof" for people who homeless or at risk of becoming homeless. They also provide other serv such as maintenance, day centre, personal grooming and closet/storage.	E. CONCLUSIONS improvement of soft and hard skills and competencies raising their char of being reintegrated into the society. The Shelters ultimate goal is help homeless people to have a decent life and, therefore, personal professional stability so that they can later be again re-integrated in society.
